

THINK ABOUT IT

Who Is on Your Team and What Will They Do?

Take a look at the following sentences. They describe some thoughts or ideas that kids might have about the team of people helping them. Think about these statements and decide whether you think they are true or false.

1. I know who is on my team. TRUE FALSE

If you answered true, write the names of your team members here:

2. I know why each person is on my team. TRUE FALSE

3. I know what each person will be doing to help me. TRUE FALSE

4. I know what my role is on the team and how I can help myself. TRUE FALSE

If you answered false, write the names of team members who can help you figure this out:

5. I think it is a good thing that I have people to support me. TRUE FALSE

If you answered false, who can you talk to about this?

6. I think that I will get more homework because I have more teachers. TRUE FALSE

If you answered true, how can you find out if this is really true for you?

Who Is on Your Team and What Will They Do? (continued)

7. I understand how the team members will keep track of how I'm doing.

TRUE FALSE

If you answered false, it's okay to ask the adults on your team about this. Who can you ask and what can you say?

8. I know what my strengths and challenges are.

TRUE FALSE

If you answered false, pick a member of your team you can ask for help figuring out what your strengths and challenges are. Who will you ask for this help?

9. I know how to share my strengths with my team and I know how to ask for help when needed.

TRUE FALSE